Please vote to support human health by voting No to cell towers in residential areas. At the very least, residents need to be consulted about installation of cell towers/antenna - all cell tower and antenna installations no matter the height.

Health Canada must review and use British and European research, including WHO's current recommendations as demonstration of Health Canada’s mandate to protect all citizens of Canada.