Comments regarding “Consultation on Amendments to Industry Canada’s Antenna Tower Siting Procedures.”

Tom Rutherford,

---------------------------------

I feel that these changes provide a significant improvement and I applaud this as a step in the right direction.

However, it concerns me that there is no mention of changes in radiation from these structures. There are international standards for acceptable levels of radiation, and radiation levels should be measured, documented and monitored to comply with these radiation levels on a regular basis.

Tom Rutherford